SCIENCE WINS BALL GAMES. The Captain of the South Side Reds Easily Demonstrates This.

When the captain of the South Side Reds marched upon the base ball grounds near Garfield Park, all ready for the regular Saturday afternoon struggle with his bitter rivals, the Real Things, he carried a tremendous hickory club-purported to be a bat-over his right shoulder and dragged after him on the end of a thick cord a forlorn little dog that couldn't boast of any especial pedigree.

"You see it's dis way, fellers," he said to the members of his sporting f:a- against the Postal Telegraph Company in ternity who gathered around him for an explanation; "if we don't win dis game I might as well quit de business an' get out o' sportin' circles. Dese Real Things has base hits-Brodie, Sheckard, Lachance. swiped us two Saturdays in succession now, an' swiped us good. We ain't been playan' swiped us good. Umpires I've got two tricks up me sleeve dis afternoon-dis here bat an' dis here pup. I don't propose to ring in needer one of 'em onless it's absolutely necessary, but keep 'em in reserve for a critical moment. Youse fellers 'ill have to practice liftin' de batit's heavier'n a gravel train. De pup 'ill take care of hisself-I've got him trained."

de South Side." It was neck and neck, nip and tuck from the auspicious opening in-ning until the glorious denouement. It was a serious business, too. There was not only honor at stake, but money also—30 cents—the players of both clubs having put up a nickel each, "de boodle to be forked over to de winnin' aggregation," The score stood 11 to 11 at the opening of the minth in-ning. The Real Things failed to tally in their time at bat. The Reds came in from the field with hearts beating high. The cap-tain of the Reds had taken the dog out into the center field with him five nifrutes before. When he returned he was alone, but nobody noticed this fact in the general excitement of the moment. In accordance with the captain's instructions, the first two ers "up" tried their luck with big hickory club, but their efforts were beneath criticism. The captain watched the second one strike out with an expression on his face that was a mixture of pain and disgust. Youse fellers ain't got de strength of babby," he said mournfully, as he observed, with intense sorrow, the triumphant look on the face of the Real Things' pitcher. It was the captain's turn now. He grabbed up the heavy club with the nonchalance of a Sandow and took his position at the plate with an air of beautiful self-confidence. The ball was pitched and he met it squarely with his club. The ball soared up over the second baseman's head and fell into the long grass in center field. "Never mind, fellers," yelled the captain of the Real Things, "it ain't good for more 'n one base, Hurry up, Jimmy, an' get de Jimmy, the center fielder, was already down on his hands and knees on the spot where the ball had fallen, feeling about in the grass. "'Tain't here," he cried, and added a cuss word or two. All of the other players in the vicinity joined in the search, but the ball could not be found. In the meantime, the captain of the Reds was hustling around the bases at an astonishing rate and soon he had crossed the home plate-and the game was won. The Real Things at once started out for home. The ball didn't belong to any of them, and they didn't care to remain within earshot of the sarcastic jeers of their victori-ous rivals. While "de boodle" was being divided among the members of the team somebody said, "Say, cap, wot did become o' dat ball, anyway?" For answer the captain placed two fingers between his lips and performed a long, shrill whistle. In an instant the tall grass RHE away out in center field was seen to wave, 0-6 12 1 and presently a shaggy little head came into sight. The captain's dog came tearing across the diamond and deposited the ball at his master's feet, wagging his tail deliriously in an ecstasy of joy.

"I tell you wot, fellers." said the captain. "me an' dis here pup ain't practiced dat game durin' the last week for nothin'." And then he added sententiously, "Fellers, jest you mark dem words wot I says—it's science wot wins ball games.'

The week ends with a record to date of eighty games played, an average of twenty to a club, with none of the clubs in sition where a single game may not change its position in the table. St. Paul has advanced to first place, perhaps by reason of the Kansas City-Indianapolis games being prevented by rain. Kansas City, however, been strengthened considerably, and would in all probability have given the Hoosiers a harder tussle than has been accorded to other antagonists of the Cowboys.

AN ENGLISH CHALLENGE

CHANCE FOR AN INTERNATIONAL ATHLETIC CONTEST.

Oxford and Cambridge Anxious Meet Yale and Harvard-Dual Field and Track Meets.

[Copyright, 1899, by the Associated Press.] LONDON, May 20. - The American line steamer Paris, which sailed for New York to-day from Southampton, took a challenge from Oxford and Cambridge universities to the universities of Yale and Harvard for an athletic contest to take place on the ground of the Queen's Club, London, during the last week in July. The programme consists of the following events: One-hundred-yard dash, 120-yard hurdle race, quarter-mile run, ing a steady oar, gradually increased their half-mile run, one-mile run, three-mile run, hammer throwing, high jump and long jump. This is the regular Oxford and Cambridge programme, with a half-mile run substituted for putting the weight, to the new rules of which event the English university men are not yet accustomed. The challenge rigidly insists that every American opponent must, like themselves, be absolutely a student and absolutely an amateur athlete. The feeling of both the English universi-one to whom more than to others is due the present challenge. He said: "Hitherto many attempts have been made to bring about an international match between the American universities and Oxford and Cambridge, but the latter have steadily declined for the very sufficient reason that Oxford and Cambridge have always felt that the state of affairs in athletics in the United States was extremely anaemic, not to say unhealthy and in a vicious state, corresponding more exactly with the conditions of professional football in England. The English universities, being the leaders in Enlish athletics, did not care to be responsible for reintroducing the regrettable state of affairs which prevailed when the New York Athletic Club encountered and de-feated the London Athletic Club, an occasion when paid athleticism in both ranks was all too thinly veiled, to the infinite discredit of both parties to the unholy conproved by the course of events subsequent to that meeting. Several of the so-called amateur athletes on both sides have since been disqualified as professionals. This is as it should be. But surely it was never right, in the opinion of right-minded men, that these same professionals should have been known for a long time before to have been anything but amateurs and should have been conveniently whitewashed by the process of unscientific opportunism to parade as selected amateurs. Further difficulties arose from the ambiguous status of American students who were known to be neither really students nor really amateurs, but who were merely valuable articles, imported for the occasion required into cer-tain American universities and those maintained in publico sumpto." Sentiment at Yale. NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 20 .- Great interest is manifested at Yale in the challenge of the English universities to Yale and Harvard for an international athletic meet in England during the summer vacation, and not only the members of track athletic team, but the undergraduates' body as well, are heartily in favor of it. The impression prevails that the faculty will not interpose any objection to the project, since it will come during the summer, and none but college students in full standing and above reproach as bona fide amateurs according to the high standard of the English universities will be permitted to take part. Captain Fisher said to-night: "Yale men are for it enthusiastically, and, barring unforeseen contingencies, I feel sure that we shall accept. So far as we know there is no bjection but we must of course submit the challenge to the faculty."

The agreement limited even this to three men on a side, which did away with trial heats except in the hurdles. There was a fierce wind blowing nearly straight up the track and fast time was out of the question. The day was cold, the attendance small. Two men dropped out in the last lap and the four were in a bunch. LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 20.-The Kentucky Oaks was won by Tom McDowell's Wadsworth-Reine D'Or, three-year-old filly, Rush, to-day, over a muddy track. May Hempstead, winner of the Tennessee Derby, and the Tennessee Oaks, met her first defeat to-day in this race, partly because Rush, at the weights and over a track exactly to her liking, was best, and partly because Turner, who rode May Hempstead, was overconfident. Rush shot to the front at flag fall and opened up a gap of three lengths. Turner, on Hempstead, figured that Rush would come back to him and let her get six lengths in the lead, when the of the home stretch was reached. Hill kept Rush going and Hempstead could never get any closer to her, though Turner rode her vigorously until he saw his mount was beaten, when he eased her up. This was the SAN FRANCISCO, May 20 .- The steamer Gaelic brings the following advices from Honolulu dated May 13: After the July quarter only a half of the laborers imported into the Hawaiian islands may be Japanese. The others must be American or Europeans. This is a move in line with compelling the plantation interests of the country to adapt themselves to the American labor system. During the next quarter, beginning July 1, there will be no restrictions on Japanese except in the individual cases of plantations where sanitary matters are not up to the requirements or where brutality may be practiced. This will enable all orders already in to be filled. The date set gives to the planters nearly five months in which to place their houses in order. In the meantime the government has permitted only one-half of the Japanese required for those five months making the list about 5,000 in place of 10,000. This will to-day with a meet at Ambrose Park, South make it necessary to look also for other labor. Meetings of planters will be held during this week, to consider the matter and it is expected that some scheme will spite of the cold winds that swept across be involved for importing Portuguese other workmen for immediate needs. The War Department has turned over to General Shafter the complete direction of all military affairs in Alaska. The only general instruction sent him has been to relieve the soldiers who have been stationed in Alaska by fresh troops, it being deemed unwise to attempt to retain men in that climate for more than one year at a time. Therefore, two companies of the Fourteenth Infantry, now divided up among Dyea, Skagway and Wrangle island, are ordered to be withdrawn and sent to the Philippines The same order is given to a detachment of the Third Artillery and the Eighteenth Infantry, now stationed at St. Michael's, near the mouth of the Yukon. The movement of troops involved in making these changes has attracted the attention of the British authorities, who are naturally sensitive as to the presence of American troops within that part of the Territory, the title to which is in dispute. Without going to the length of a protest, the embassy here has made a discreet inquiry as to the purpose of our government, intimating it would be the part of prudence for both sides to refrain from taking any steps calculated to increase the feeling of jealousy and sus-picion which now exists to some degree smong the miners of both nationalities scattered along the border. The result of the inquiry has been to convince the Britplate the occupation by military force of any of the disputed territory. Under this construction, therefore, the United States forces will be retained at Skagway and Dyea, though changed in personnel. No atempt will be made to establish new posts as to Alaska, and he will be advised upon

No matter what the status of the Spanish concession might be in time of peace, it is held that no Spanish concession can interfere with our military operations in the Philippines, and, as intercommunication between the islands is deemed necessary for the assertion of our sovereignty and the conduct of our military operations, no attention will be paid to the protest of the English company.

CHANCE FOR LANDSMEN. Westerners Will Be Given a Pleasant Cruise on the Hartford.

CHICAGO, May 20.-Lieut. B. W. Wells, in charge of the United States naval recruiting station here, received instructions to-day from Commander John M. Hawley for a novel bit of recruiting. The instructions were for the securing of seventy-five men between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five years and a band of sixteen pieces, all the men to come from the States of this section. This is the first time a naval band has ever been organized at the Chicago recruiting station. Commander Hawley announced the men and musicians are to be put aboard the Hartford, now at the Mare Island navy yard, and that the ship will be taken around the Horn and up the Atlantic coast by easy stages, making frequent stops at interesting ports en-

IT CAN'T BE DONE

So One Can Remain Well, No Chronic Disease Can Be Cured Unless the Stomach Is First Made Strong and Vigorous.

This is plain because every organ in the body depends on the stomach for its nourishment. Nerve, bone, sinew, blood are made from the food which the stomach converts to our use. How useless to treat disease with this, that and the other remedy and neglect the most important of all, the stomach.

The earliest symptoms of indigestion are sour risings, bad taste in the mouth, gas in stomach and bowels, palpitation, all-gone feeling, faintness, headaches, constipation; later comes loss of flesh, consumption, liver and heart troubles, kidney diseases, nervous prostration, all of which are the indirect result of poor nutrition. Any person suffering from indigestion should make it a practice to take after each meal one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, allowing it to dissolve in the mouth and thus mingle with the saliva and enter the stomach in the most natural way. These Tablets are highly recommended by Dr. Jennison because they are composed of the natural digestive acids and fruit essences which assist the stomach in digesting all wholesome food before it has time to ferment and sour. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists, full sized packages at 50 cents. They are also excellent for invalids and children. RECEPTION TO SCHLEY.

Grasp the Admiral's Hand.

OMAHA, Neb., May 20 .- In the face of a least 10,000 people came out to attend the public reception tendered Rear Admiral Schley in the rotunda of the City Hall. The rotupda was elaborately decorated with bunting and potted plants and from 4 until 6 o'clock a constant stream of humanity passed through. Mayor Moores and ex-Senator Manderson were of the receiving party. Admiral Schley was escorted from the house of General Manderson by the High School Cadets, and conspicuous among those who pressed forward to grasp the hand of the admiral were the school children, and it was evident he had no more enthusiastic admirers than the little ones. When the hour for closing the reception came people were still in line. As he drove away in a car-riage the large crowd around the City Hall cheered him vigorously. This evening Admiral Schley was entertained at an informal banquet by the members of the Loyal Le-

FAIRBANK IMPROVEMENTS

Popular Summer Garden Made Much Prettier for This Season.

The formal opening of Fairbank takes place to-morrow evening, and visitors will find that this pretty spot has been made more beautiful than it was last season. Mr. Tron has had a force of florists at work all tempt to resume his duties at the White spring setting out new plants and flowers and getting the shrubbery and vines into shape. The result of their labors is bound to be pleasing, for a prettier, pleasanter place than Fairbank will be hard to find. There are thousands of new plants and flowers. They border the banks of Fall creek from Illinois street to Capitol avenue, and for to life imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth. | four hundred feet along the Capitol-avenue side there are innumerable running rose plants, which will be in bloom before long. The bottom of the aquarium is covered with small sea shells from the coast of Cuba.

The music this year will be furnished by the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra, of New York. This organization is composed of twenty talented musicians and is direction of Frank L. McKee. It has just closed a highly successful concert tour. Mabel Beaumont, the violin soloist, and Miss Lizzie Banks, the solo cornetist, are favorites here, having appeared before Indianapolis audicaces several times. The orchestra will render matinee programmes on Tues-days, Thursdays and Saturdays, and will play every evening, the programme being varied enough to please the lovers of both popular and classic music.

The cafe will give the same excellent service as heretofore and will furnish every. table delicacy the market affords. Begin-ning next Sunday, table d'hote dinners will be served from 1 to 3 p. m. on Sundays at 60 cents. These Sunday table d'hotes at Fairbank were very popular last year.

The grounds are free and every accommodation is provided for the checking of bicycles and carriages. One Person in Every Four Suffers from Piles.

About one person in every four suffers from some form of rectal disease. The most common and annoying is itching piles, indicated by warmth, slight moisture and intense, uncontrollable itching in the parts affected. The usual treatment has been some simple ointment or salve which sometimes give temporary relief, but nothing like a permanent cure can be expected from such superficial treatment. The only permanent cure for itching piles yet discovered is the Pyramid Pile Cure, not only for itching piles, but for every other form of piles, blind, bleeding or protruding. The first application gives instant relief and the continued use for a short time causes a permanent removal of the tumors or the small parasites which cause the intense itching and discomfort of itching piles Many physicians for a long time that the remarkable relief afforded by the Pyramid Pile Cure was because it was supdrugs, but such is not the case. A recent careful analysis of the remedy showed it to be absolutely free from any cocaine, opium, or in fact any poisonous, injurious drugs
